Go to the Head of the Class

A game of survival

Rules of the game:

Players begin as freshmen and must move through four grueling years of high school, completing eight weeks of exams and 21 credits. At the end, the players find themselves at the head of the class and ready to become professional players of the game of life.

In Memory . . .
Katherine Vayda (1979-1996)

A brand new angel in the sky who sits by us as we each cry.
She gives us each something very dear that eases the pain of each sorrow tear.
She gives us the strength to carry on as she smiles with the sun at every dawn.
She fills our hearts with love
as she soars overhead like a mourning dove.
She lets our souls be free
like the highest leaf on the tallest tree.
She allows our spirits to run like a galloping stallion in the evening sun.
She was all of these things as a whole for now we sadly rest her soul.
To each of us she meant something different for when we met it was a special moment.
Now we have to say good-bye
but we are comforted by the bells that chime,
For every time a bell rings an angel receives her wings.
Catherine A. Malin

Dear Classmates,

We have had the unique opportunity to grow and learn together for the past four years as the Enrico Fermi High School Class of 1997. Together we have cultivated knowledge and attained experiences that we will carry with us as we venture into the future. The faculty and staff have prepared us for what will come, and together we have grown into responsible young adults ready to tackle the world.

The Fermi building has changed as we have proceeded through our high school years. The carpets were replaced by tile floors so that green, red, and blue floors all became the same shade of Fermi blue. Likewise, our ideas and personalities have changed and grown to make us who we are today.

As we go out into the world, we will remember the good times and friendships we have had at Fermi. Each one of us will have opportunities to make a mark on society that will set us apart. Reach for your goals and there is no limit to what you can achieve.

Best of luck to you all,
Sarah Steverman
Senior Class President

Trivial Pursuit

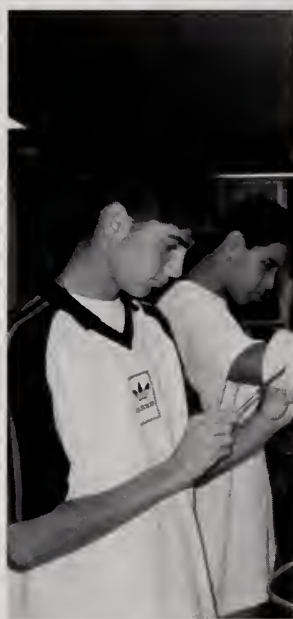

A game of knowledge

Rules of the game:

The players move through the game answering questions and learning new facts . . . this seemingly pointless game never seems to end. When it is finally over, players begin "Go to the Head of the Class" and often say that they wished they could have played "Trivial Pursuit" a little longer.

Master Mind

A game of power

Rules of the game:

Players must master the skills and knowledge needed to play the Game of Life in order to become master minds. These players are so powerful that they affect every game we play . . . after all, they taught us the rules.

This yearbook celebrates a journey through four of the most important years of your life. It "Traces" memorable events during your high school career and serves as a written and pictorial history of the Class of 1997. As time passes and you look forward to your reunions, you will no doubt return to your yearbook. In thumbing through the pages, we hope that you will be able to trigger a memory that will bring a smile to your face reflecting on the wonderful years you spent as a student here at Enrico Fermi High School.

Now that you are ready to accept the next challenge in your life, you should feel confident that the staff and administration have given you the solid foundation necessary to succeed in this ever changing world. You are reminded that no matter where the road of life may take you, you will always be part of the Fermi Family . . . represent us well.

A game of diversity

Rule of the game

Do you like business? Theater? Student government? Players must find the activities they most enjoy, enabling them to form memories with players they never would have met otherwise.

Student Senate

Positive, Diligent, Involved, Dedicated, Serious, and Hardworking are adjectives that I use to describe a group of young talented leaders known as the Student Senate. We are governed by a philosophy that is evident in everything we do. Our philosophy is simple we were trusted to represent our homerooms in September, a responsibility we took seriously, so our goal is to improve Fermi anyway that we can. This senate is made up of an incredible group of involved students. It has been an exciting year with our mock-election, Pep Rally Dances, raising money to purchase two tons of food for Loaves and Fishes. We have long term goals such as juice in the cafeteria, a decorated lobby, and Student Union all to benefit Falcons for years to come.

The 1996 and 1997 school year posed itself as a year of firsts for the National Honor Society. During the induction ceremony, all inductees and members took part in the creation of a new insignia; a journal that will record the names of future members. We were also pleased to have a news television celebrity as our guest speaker at the induction. The Honor Society established a new "buddy" system, an effort to promote togetherness. Senior member graduates will now walk down the graduation aisle with a well-earned stoles around their necks. Finally, all members experienced some privileges this year, as recognition for their contributions.

As the National Honor Society reached its record high of fifty members, it also reached out to the school and community in many ways. Whether it was volunteering at a town-sponsored Halloween party, Christmas caroling at nursing homes, or tutoring a peer, the members were eager to participate. This eagerness, in combination with attributes of leadership, service, character, and scholarship, led to a hugely appreciative and proud town.

The society raised money through a Bowl-a-thon, candy cane sales, basketball game concession stand, and a tee-shirt fund-raiser, among other things. Determination was a huge driving force. Our treasury sky-rocketed, resulting in many donations. The food shelf, and other positive organizations received our monetary contributions. But most importantly, the community reaped the benefits of having citizens who are aware and willing to make a difference. Every individual in the National Honor Society should feel proud for their acts of volunteerism.

FBLA — Future Business Leaders of America

The Enrico Fermi FBLA Chapter had another exciting and busy year both in providing community service and in developing leadership skills, resulting in professional and personal accomplishments for the students involved.

The Chapter members started the year by inviting their parents to the Installation of Offices/Induction of New Members ceremony and by developing an agenda that encouraged all members to get involved, focusing on the National Theme "Go For the Gold." Members continued to gain a competitive edge by hosting the 10th Annual FBLA Fall Craft Fair. Service activities included the hosting of "Trick or Treat Street" in conjunction with the Enfield Parks and Recreation Department's Halloween Night. The visitation to Blair Manor Nursing Home for Thanksgiving brought entertainment and homemade goodies to the residents, and the first Sweatshirt/Sweater Drive for the Network for Domestic Abuse netted more than 550 items for the children and women at the shelter. The holiday visit to the Connecticut State Receiving Home in East Windsor provided an opportunity for the FBLA members and residents to share the holiday spirit of friendship. The members participated in the writing process by responding as elves to "Letters to Santa" for over 150 first graders from Eli Whitney and Nathan Hale elementary schools.

A donation of $200 was issued to Friends of Ocotol to purchase environmental books. Valentine's Day and St. Patrick's Day carnations were sold to provide a donation to the Enfield Soup Kitchen.

All members participated in the Connecticut FBLA State Leadership Conference by competing with enthusiasm and determination in various events such as Public Speaking, Accounting, and Entrepreneurship.

The year's activities are culminated with the presentation of service and achievement awards at the Enrico Fermi High School Award Night. The FBLA Chapter is also noted for its sponsoring the Business and Marketing Students of the Month Program and the presentation of a $300 scholarship to the Outstanding Business Student of the Year.

Lamplighters

Talk about an audience of your peers! For the first time, the drama club performed this year in front of the entire student body. During the senate-sponsored cultural assembly in March, the Lamplighters presented a scene from this year's show, "While the Lights Were Out." In order to really find out what happened while the lights were out, though, our audience had to come to one of three evening performances — and come they did, setting a new record for ticket sales. Those who saw the murder mystery comedy walked away with a better idea of what the Lamplighters do on stage. However, there is so much more going on behind the scenes that the audience never sees. With the constant work and guidance of our volunteer advisory quartet — Ken and Celeste Estvanik, Patty Pielucchi, and Sue Reese — the Lamplighters spent long hours scene-running, set-building, picture-taking, prop-gathering, costume-hunting, poster-hanging . . . (And of course, let's not forget our all-day marathon rehearsal!) In the end, everything magically came together, and we put on what everyone involved agreed was one of our best shows ever. We learned a lot — and had a lot of laughs — along the way!

. . . Thanks to everyone who has helped and supported the Lamplighters this year.

VOICES INCORPORATED AND MAIN EVENT

Voices Incorporated, Fermi and Enfield High Schools' combined chorus, kicked off its second year with a bang. Due to popular demand, they held three concerts this year and were able to sell out each night. The concerts became such an exciting and popular event to attend that it was virtually impossible to buy tickets after they had been on sale for two weeks. The group increased the schools' appreciation for music and the arts.

Main Event, the singing, dancing, ensemble, also continued in its success. They performed at all three concerts as well, and even found time to participate in outside events for the community.

Both groups have grown in size and each contains a remarkable amount of talent.

Concert and Marching Band

The Fermi Band is the largest public relations group in our school system. They open the season with a two week band camp in August and from there went on to perform in numerous events. These events include the Peach Festival in Wilbraham, MA; Four Town Fair in Somers, CT; The Big "E"; the Holiday and Spring concerts; and the band also competed in the "Cadet Marching Band Championships" at Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, NJ.

The Concert and Marching band also hosted the First annual Fermi Marching Band Jamboree on October 10, 1996, which drew bands from many places to compete here at our school.

On April 17-21 they competed at the "All American Music Festival" in Orlando, Florida. There are eight categories Fermi competed in, they are: Field Show, Concert, String Ensemble, Jazz Ensemble, Jazz Combo, Indoor Guard, Marching Percussion and Parade.

This musical group has a great beat and talented musicians. In the past this ensemble has developed many stars at Enrico Fermi. These students have gone on to pursue musical careers.

The Jazz band has always been competitive under the direction of Mr. Macaluso. They competed at "Berkeley College of Music" in Boston, Massachusetts. Norwalk and Trumbull, Connecticut are other sites of competitions they have taken a part in this year. Their most important competition was the Nationals held in Orlando, Florida.

Other than competitions the Jazz Band also performs at the Holiday and Spring concerts and the fifth annual Jazz Festival held here at Fermi.

This group of musicians is an exceptional part of Fermi High School. They performed for us at the Holiday and Spring concerts. This year they competed with other ensembles around the country in Orlando, Florida. Even with all this work they found time to visit elementary schools and perform during March which is "Music in our Schools Month."

Some of these talented musicians in this group have auditioned for Connecticut All State. There are even a few students who performed at the Eastern Regional Music Festival at the University of Connecticut.

The Fermi Color Guard has had many accomplishments this year. They have performed with the band at various competitions ranging from Trumbull, Connecticut to New York City and New Jersey. The highlight of their season is when they received four out of five stars in Rockville, Connecticut. The color guard members are hard working, dedicated, and through eight months of practice and performance they are a team.

Dance Team

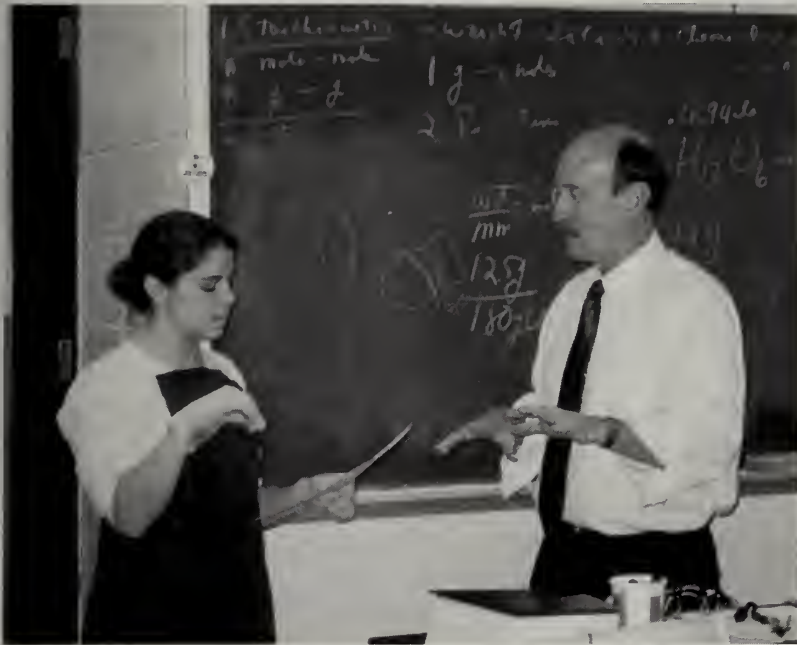

We survived! It's hard being the new guy. They didn't think we would last. Well, we stuck together taking every hit as they came. There were a few minor problems, and many major conflicts. Those were overcome by the maturity and caring on everyone's part. After pulling out the weeds, we managed to have lots of fun. I think we can all say that this was a great year. I want to thank all the girls, our advisor — Maureen Duffy, all the moms and captain Miss Megan Duffy for making this year a success. You go girls!!

First Robotics Team

The FIRST (For Inspiration and Recognition of Science and Technology) Robotics Team entered it's second year of competition this year beginning with a lot of hard work. To build something as complex as a robot, it takes a group of people that are willing to put in a lot of time and effort. This year's team grew from last year, with over 30 students, 15 engineers from Hamilton Standard Space Systems International and Techni Products, and our 3 faculty advisors, Mr. Hodrinsky, Mr. DePino, and Mr. Olsen, we greatly outnumbered last year.

After pulling numerous all-nighters (yes we actually slept over the school for 3 days straight!!), we finally competed BUZZ. We loaded him up in our crate and brought him up for his first competition in Manchester, NH. A good time was had by all there, from the excitement of the competition to seeing how our hard work had paid off when BUZZ was seeded 5th.

We then, after making some small adjustments, shipped him off for his second competition at Rutgers College in NJ. Our signs, songs, cheers and chants could be heard throughout the entire building, no one could say that we were lacking spirit! Now all that was left was the Nationals!

We loaded our plane for EPCOT Center, Orlando, FL., on April 9th. The excitement of being at the National's was felt throughout all of the Disney theme parks. After hours we were able to relax and have a good time on Space Mountain, Alien Encounter, Splash Mountain, and many of the other rides at Disney World.

All we can say is, "WE CAN'T WAIT UNTIL NEXT YEAR!!!"

Pops

Throughout the year this organization puts on various school spirit building activities. Each homeroom is represented by one or two students. This year Pops put together some great activities. There was a Homeroom Banner contest which involved a candidate from each homeroom to draw a banner that would represent Fermi. There was the Fermi Fight Song while being video taped. Pops also sponsors a contest that helps school children in Ocotlán, either by donating money for books or by donating pencils, pens, and crayons. Pops is a great way to get our school spirit going.

Chess

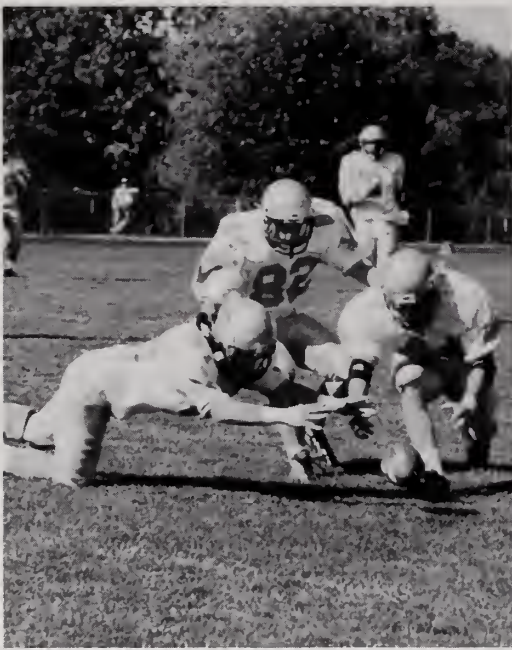

A game of strategy

Rules of the game:

The players, knowing that there is strength in numbers, form two teams. Each team must find the opponent's weaknesses and use them to their own advantage. This is war, and both sides have the same goal: to win.

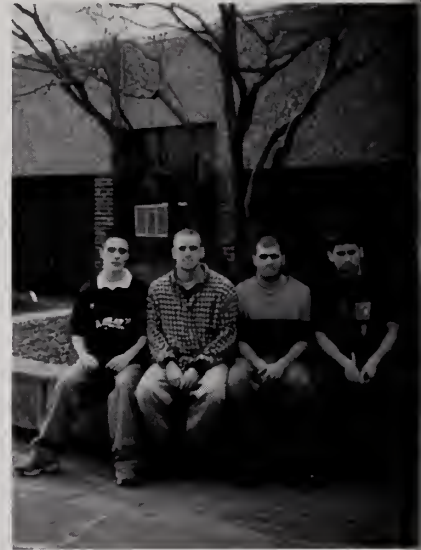

Down and Dirty

This year's Fermi Football team ended with a record of 1-10. With the loss of 10 seniors last year, they had to mold a team from many young and inexperienced players. Unfortunately, this record didn't reflect the team's capabilities as well as anticipated. This season has been a fun but educational building block for the future. Even though there weren't as many wins as they would have liked, they still stuck together through it all. The Falcons looked up to senior captains Bobby Wood, Mike Rago, and All-Conference player Gray Wanzer to help unify the team.

Women's Field Hockey

This year's women's Field Hockey team was young and inspired to do well with what they had. Having lost 6 seniors from last year, 3 of which were on the forward line, they had to rebuild their offense. Leading this effort were freshman all-conference player Amy Bartholomew and lead scorer Melissa Tetro with 11 of her goals. Their defense including all-conference and MVP Erica Schermerhorn was very strong. They were nicknamed the wall for their consistency in blocking their opponents. Captain Stacey Silva and Amy Lechowicz were selected as All-State honorable mention players. Although they finished with a record of 4-9-2, this team improved their skills and learned to work together as a team. Senior Bethany Crehan says, "With only losing two seniors the future looks good for the women Falcons, so good luck next season."

CCC EAST CHAMPS

The Year of the Dragon

Dedication, friendship and team spirit are what lead this year's Women's Volleyball to a winning season. With a record of 13-1, they captured the title of CCC-East C Champions. Fermi's first state victory over Hall allowed the team the chance to play in the quarter-finals of the state tournament. The spiking expertise of German foreign exchange student Christine Schultz and back row specialist Christie Silva strengthened the defense as well as the offense.

"Remembering the key to being a good team is that each player is a part of the success brought us the championship," says top setter Daniele Schuilla. Also the 100% effort of this team made it complete. The outstanding coaching of Brie Quartin taught the team what it takes to be winners while still having fun doing it.

This year's Volleyball team members were role models for any athlete showing tremendous leadership and skill.

*You're not a team

You're a dragon that breathes, spikes, serves, passes, and digs flaming fireballs.

*You're a dragon with

Men's Soccer

This year's Men's soccer team showed remarkable play this fall. During preseason they were undefeated, showing a sure sign of performing well together. Despite the fact that they lost 13 seniors in the previous year, they still came out with a winning record of 10-6-1. Chad Allegro, Jeff Kazukynas, and Reid Kozlak were named All-Conference players. This year's team knew the true meaning of team spirit and realized that it is important to respect each player's individual talents. With this they were victorious over undefeated Manchester which was ranked sixth in the state.

They went on to play in the state tournament where they were defeated by Simsbury 1-0. Coach Russell observed that the loss to Simsbury displayed a tremendous example of what Fer mi soccer is all about — teamwork. This team helped to mold a spirit of togetherness for teams of the future.

Women's Soccer

The Fermi Women's Soccer team finished their season with a record of 7-8. These women played competitive, spirited soccer right to the last game of the season. This is how they were; determined and hard-working. This team combined its talents with non-stop effort and learned from their defeats. Captain Sarah Tallarita and Kim Miczak, along with seven other seniors, helped the team reach its success. Coach Kuhnel best summarized the season by stating "Teamwork is the fuel that allows common people to achieve uncommon results."

Cross

The Cross Country team, as a whole, broke new boundaries this season. Despite the team's hardships, they both ended with winning records. The women set a new top record for Fermi, 6 wins and 5 losses, placing them fourth in the league. MVP's Jesse Bulgier and Lisa Deskis acted as role models due to their abilities, as well as captains, Alison Prestor

Country

John R. Crosson, and Mike Chant. Watching the fastest runners, motivated the rest of the team to reach a higher standard, as a team and individually. Even though they were much smaller in number than their competitors, they still performed well because of their determination to win. This team set a new level for Fermi Cross Country.

Women's Cheerleading

The 1996-1997 Cheerleading squad started its season at a summer camp in Boston. Here they excelled as a young team, winning many team spirit awards and ribbons. Also at camp they had the honor of receiving the Superior Award for being one of the best squads. Team Captain Mandy Atkinson said, "Dedication, Hardwork, and Most of all Discipline, are important qualities that allow a team to succeed." The design of this Cheerleading team has been to pass on much of this years competition. The main focus has been to build a solid foundation for future years.

CCC East Champs

Being the CCC East Champs for three years was quite an accomplishment for the Women on the Varsity Swim Team. For breaking the school record in the Medley relay, congratulations went to Erin Quinlin, Debbie Repass, Tammy Repass, and Amber Johnson. Their school record now stands at 1 minute 55 seconds. An extra tribute went to Amber Johnson for making All-American as a freshman. This achievement, although seemingly easy, was a very hard and time consuming goal for these girls. They took their talents as individuals and used them well to form a strong team. It seems that all the hard work and extensive practicing paid off, leaving the Women's Varsity Swimming team with a record of 11-1.

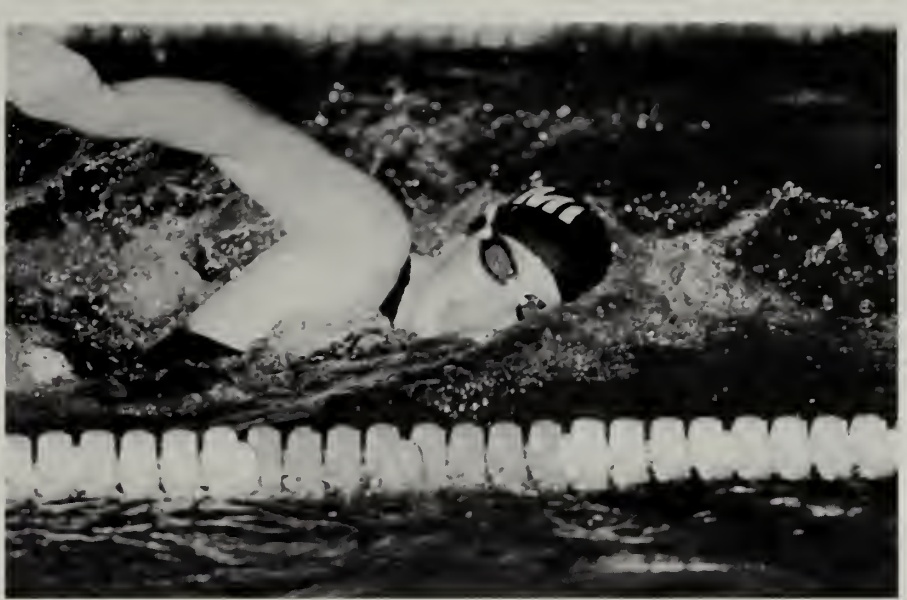

Captains: Sarah Steverman, Devon Aloisa, Debbie Repass.

Wrestling

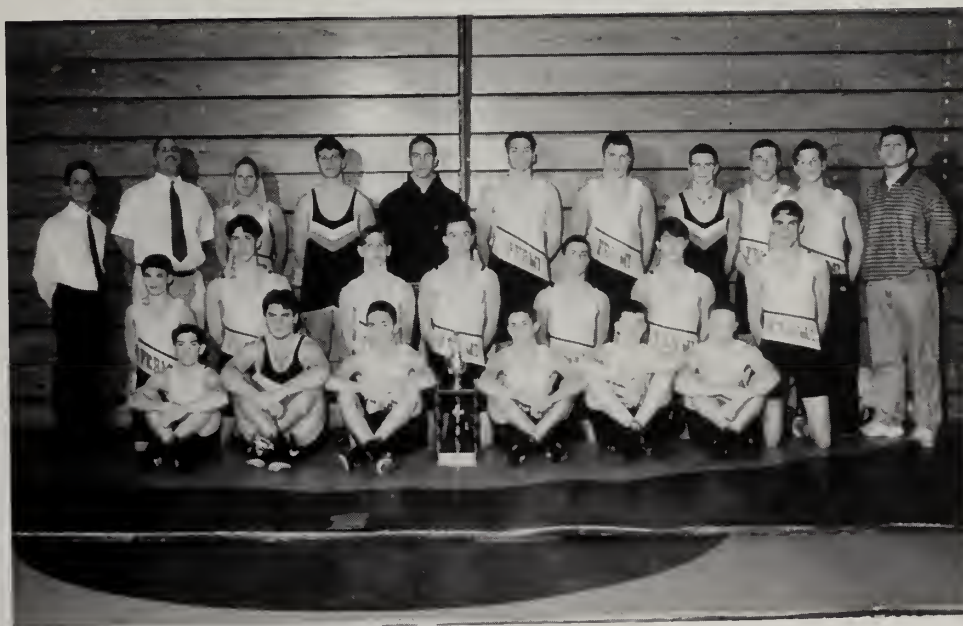

Team unity and self-determination were key factors for the wrestling team this year. Although there were many first-year wrestlers, the team produced an outstanding record of 16-8. The biggest achievement was a victory over Manchester, a goal unattained for 10 years. Among the individual accomplishments, captains Paul Hassiuk and Geoff Cunningham both placed first in their weight classes in the Simsbury tournament, while Paul Phelps took third. An extra tribute goes to Paul Hassiuk for placing first in the Class L tournament and third in the State Opening. Other star wrestlers include senior Mark Szesuik and junior Warren Hurley. Losing only three seniors, next season looks extremely promising due to the hard work and progress they achieved this season.

Men's Basketball

Although it was a rough year for the Men's Basketball team, they feel very confident that next year's team will show improvement. This was a young team with only two seniors, Mike Nelson and Mike Michaud, and a new coach, Rich Maier, coaching his first year of high school basketball. Many of the players returning next year have been playing together for years. Captains Mike Nelson, Mike Michaud and Junior Captain Kevin Trosky contributed greatly and helped lead the team. It was a growing experience and they had a good time learning. We're all looking forward to a more promising season next year.

Women's Basketball

Working together counts for something on the court of the Women's Varsity Basketball team. Despite their record, they made a point to play their best and have fun doing it. Believing that it was a fairly young team, they played well defensively, showing aggression and spirit on the court. Feeling that they learned a great deal this year, they're looking forward to more positive season next year.

Men's Hockey

This year's Men's Hockey team took many people by surprise. Because the team was so young, they weren't expected to perform as well as they did. With all the hard work and determination to fight to the end, they ended the season with a record of 13-9, making them the Co-CCC East Champions. Together Jeff Kazukynas, Ryan Cournoyer, Jeremy Madsen and Mike Solesky helped form a strong front line, averaging more than five goals a game. Leading scorer, Jeff Kazukynas, had thirty-seven goals this season and received the Connecticut Interscholastic Sportsmanship Award. This team showed much pride and love for the game. This was demonstrated in the preliminary round against Milford, beating them 9-4 advancing them to the first round of the state tournament, facing South Windsor. They were also solid defensively, led by seniors Joe Rochette and Matt Fontaine, along with sophomore goalie Derek Fiore. With a large number of players returning next year's season looks especially promising.

Memory

A game of friendship

Rules of the game:

The game of life is difficult, but memory helps us to play it. It is a game of laughter, good times, and remembering those who helped us through life's struggles.

A Frightening Festival

Centuries ago people would dress in costume and parade through town in the hopes of frightening away any demons that might be lurking there. In this pagan tradition, Fermi students dress up every October 31 as the most horrifying thing they can imagine, including ghosts, zombies, and . . . infectious waste?

Okay, usually students dress to amuse rather than frighten, and this year was no exception. Costumes ranged from cave women to former presidents and included just about everything in between. As an incentive to dress up, the Senate offered free tickets to the bonfire dance to the students with the best costumes, and some teachers even gave bonus points to those who made the effort.

Competition!

It is 7:26 in the morning, and the late bell has just rung. By now students are either seated in homeroom or scrambling madly through the halls to avoid the "tardy" mark on the attendance list. There is a buzz from the intercom as Mr. Kelleher makes the morning announcements: "The annual Fermi Fight Song competition will take place next week. The winning homerooms from each grade will receive Munchkins and juice."

If there is one word that can be used to describe homerooms at Fermi, it is "competitive." Whether they are creating the most spirited banner, bringing in the most pencils, or collecting the most sweaters, Fermi homerooms need only hear the word "breakfast," a luxury for most students, before they determine to give it their all.

The Fight Song contest is one of the biggest competitions of the year, and is used to generate spirit among the students right before Spirit Week. The homerooms must create their own rendition of the song, keeping in mind that they will be judged on creativity, spirit, and, unfortunately for some, voice quality. P.O.P.S. representatives, led by Mr. Yankee, are responsible for choosing the winners.

Pep Rally '96 a Success

The Student Senate, under the guidance of Mr. Kiner, begins planning for the pep rally weeks ahead of time. Traditionally, the focus has been on the football team and getting ready for the next day's Thanksgiving game against Enfield High School, but this year's Senate Vice President Nate Ferrera promised something different. "The focus will be on all of the teams," he said. "It will be more equal."

Students began filing into the gymnasium at 10:50 on Wednesday, November 27. Freshmen entered first, followed by the sophomore and junior classes. Each took a seat in their own designated section on the bleachers, surrounded by blue and white balloons, streamers, and signs that the Senate had spent all morning putting up. Junior Andy Fimka walked into the middle of the gym and cried into the microphone, "Let's give a hand for the class of '97!"

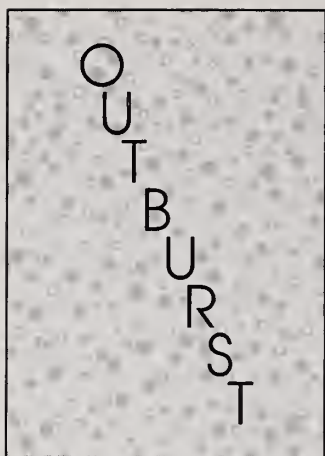

Seniors stormed through the doors wearing Fermi sweatshirts and elaborate blue make-up. Screaming and cheering, they sprayed green silly string into the air as Mr. Ross lamented, "Now the floor is going to be slippery."

If Someone in Our Class Wanted to Find You 10 Years From Now, Where or How would they Find You?

Jason Gazsi: Single, rich, happy, and living in a small town.

Kristi Droney: In ten years I will hopefully be starting a prosperous and successful law career. I hope to be very wealthy. Hopefully, I will be married and have one child, a girl named Mackenzie.

April Peters: In ten years you will hopefully find me living down south with a great husband and children. I will hopefully be a successful psychiatrist.

Andrew Gallacher: Married, rich, and living in Texas.

Christina Ngov: In ten years, I will still be living in Enfield, CT, in a big mansion. I will be an elementary school teacher where I will meet my gorgeous husband who is the principal of the school.

Ryan Valley: In ten years, I will be in Jamaica, beautifully bronzed and in a deep sleep!

Mike Salvas: Although rich from winning the Lotto in 42 out of 50 states, I will be undercover in the FBI somewhere in Australia investigating a kangaroo smuggling operation.

Kim Yanosy: In Washington working in a hospital with sick or disabled children. I will have a husband and a large family.

Lorie Desjean: In ten years, you will find me two years out of veterinary school. With my DVM, I will most likely be married and will have a couple of kids in the next few years. But of course I will have my horses and my dogs!

Sarah Tallarita: In ten years I will have my own Talk Show called "SARAH". And my theme song will be: Just tell Sarah and she'll make you feel ALL GOOD!!! Look for me!

Kristen Myshrall: I'll have received my PhD in Marine Biology and will be working to save the Florida Manatee. I'll be married with one child and I'll have a nice house right on the beach in Southern FL.

Leah Duggan: In ten years I will be teaching biology at the High School level, married and very happy!

Becca Dodd: I hope to be teaching math at a local high school. And I will be very happy torturing kids with calculus because they will be suffering!

Ruth Bushnell: I will be at the academy on Yavin Four studying to be a Jedi Knight to fight against the forces of the Dark Side.

Jim Wishart: You'll find me on The American Gladiators under the name "Gary Price"! Look for me!!!

Cheryl Rogerson: Hopefully I will be somewhere far away from here working as an occupational therapist. You won't ever be able to find me! I will be married — to who knows who, and have kids.

Julie Noto: Ten years from now I'll be traveling around Europe.

Melusia Eng: I will be teaching in an elementary school somewhere in New England and travel to different countries each summer with the love of my life.

Rick Fausel: In ten years you'll find me in a VW bus following Phish!

Roxanne Klezos: In ten years from now I am going to be in the U.S. Marines Corps. I will be a Master Sergeant and have a higher position than Mike Chant!!

Marcy Pozzi: Ten years from now our class members could find me basking on a beach on the Riviera. My luck would have held strong over the years and I would have won the Lottery by then.

Vinny Stetson: I'll be rich, so don't!

Laura Steele: Ten years from now somebody could find me chilling on the beach behind my condo with Melissa getting a nice tan and checking out the guys.

Andrea Craddy: Most people could find me right here in Enfield teaching Art at one of the high schools with a doctorate degree in Art History. My students would be my kids and they could call me "Doc."

Renee Centore: In Boston, famous and happy working for myself.

Jenn Lillis: In ten years I will be a successful elementary school teacher or running a daycare hopefully somewhere in California.

Christie Silva: I be living in a big white house in Washington, D.C.

Nichole Nieroda: In ten years I will be in some rural part of America teaching. If you want to find me, call my mom and ask.

Paul Prior: Ten years from now someone would probably have to like the water, because I plan to stay in the coast Guard. I hope to be on boat down in the keys, or in Alaska, helping to maintain our country's safety.

Cheryl Rembiesa: I would be in Philadelphia, working as a veterinary technician, and have a family.

Stacey Silva: In ten years from now I hope to be teaching physical education. Maybe come looking back where you graduated from and look towards the gym.

Debbie Stroiney: In ten years I hope I'll be in Medical School getting a degree in psychiatry or pediatrics. Married to a great guy and living in Boston, MA, next door to my best friend Renee.

Janel Sheaffer: In ten years from now I will have two years left of my residency to become an Obstetrician. Hopefully married and at least one child. Working in a hospital in Colorado or California. Huge house and rich!

Christine Schultz: In ten years you can find me in France managing a hotel on the beach. I'll have a great husband and two kids, and be very happy!

Joanne Libby: They would find me somewhere in an elementary school as a third grade teacher.

Gina Casarella: Call my parents. I doubt I'll be married, but hopefully I'll have some kids. I don't know my job either.

Jessica Lavallee: In ten years I will probably be in the coast guard, living the "service" as my career and studying for my law and order (cop) degree. You could find me stationed in Maine, and if I'm married by that time it will be to my present boyfriend Thomas.

Dan Thibodeau: Ten years from now look for me on the NAS-CAR Winston Car circuit.

Stephanie Houde: Married with a few kids and be running my own accounting firm.

Rochielle Rodis: Ten years from now I will be somewhere in a third world country giving medical aid to the needy. For leisure I'll be bungee jumping, sky diving, safari hunting, making the most out of life, so don't try to find me.

Mike Michaud: Just look at your television set, I'll be on most channels.

Debbie Repass: They should probably head to either New York or L.A. where I'll be a famous screen actress so you'll have to get in though with my agents if you want to talk to me.

Sara McAlmond: In ten years from now you will find me working for a fashion design company in New York City and driving a 2007 Black Mercedes Convertible.

Nicole Estvanik: You could try looking on the bookshelves in the "New Bestsellers" section, since my writing career after Grad school will finally be taking off. Other places to look for me might be Broadway or Europe, but give me another ten years after that and I'll probably be writing at home and raising my kids.

Amy Kogut: I will be a dance teacher, and possibly an art teacher. Maybe even rich and famous!

Heather Hilliman: Chillin' anywhere but here!!!

Allison Szewczyk: They would find me on a stage in London.

Megan Duffy: Hopefully, I'll be a dance teacher somewhere in the Manhattan area of New York City, maybe even rich and famous!

Brian Demming: They would hopefully find me living in Virginia with a wife and hopefully a kid.

Jennifer Blacksher: Ten years from now, you could find me in Texas. I'll be living there and I will be teaching 3rd grade.

Kevin Huss: Turn on your TV set on MTV. You'll see me under the alias K-Lee, happily married to Beth Henzel . . . or . . . you could just page me!

Misty McGuire: In ten years you should be able to find me in the movie production working behind cameras!

Devon Aloisa: Ten years from now you'll probably find me in a van traveling around the United States.

Keri Dillard: Probably still in Enfield, married with 7 or 8 kids, at a really bad job, and with a really weird husband, but hey, at least I'm looking forward to it!

Jaclyn Kelly: Woah! Flash back to college essay questions! Check out Time Magazine's "The world's most successful businesswomen!" I'll to be working five months a year in D.C., five months in Berlin, Germany and the rest of the time traveling around the world! With a great husband of course!!

Melanie Collins: Rich and Happy!!!

Mike Chant: Embassy duty (maybe somewhere in the middle east) United States Marine Corps.
